Madrid, Spain
English (native) · Spanish (fluent)

AI-first product designer with experience building at the intersection of technology, design, and user-centered products. Passionate about designing products that create genuine value — bilingual, bicultural, and comfortable across the full design-to-delivery process.

SELECTED WORK EXPERIENCE

Senior Product Designer | El Confidencial — 2022 — present

Senior product designer at one of Spain's leading digital newspapers — 5M daily unique users, 60,000 paying subscribers. Involved in all aspects of product design, with a focus on long-term strategy, product discovery, user research, design system creation, subscription growth, and AI integration.

Assistant Professor | Universidad Europea — 2025 — present

Teaching in the Master in Communication and Digital Product Design — guiding students through design thinking, user research methods, and end-to-end product processes, from initial concept through prototyping to shipped digital product.

UX/UI Designer | Portal Derecho, S.A. — 2020 — 2022

Led all UX/UI phases for Iustel, a legal document search platform used by law professionals across Spain — user research, personas, journey mapping, wireframing, prototyping, design system creation, and developer handoff. Redesigned core search and document browsing flows.

Web & Graphic Designer | Freelance — 2018 — 2020

Web design, development, and graphic design for organizations in the US and Spain — including branding, responsive websites, and print collateral for small businesses and nonprofits.

ABOUT

My background in psychology, philosophy, and design gives me lateral thinking skills I apply across every phase of the design process — from early research to product strategy to polished final designs ready for handoff. Originally from Washington, D.C. and based in Madrid since 2017, I'm fully bilingual (English/Spanish) with experience working across cultures. Comfortable with in-office, hybrid, and remote settings. Outside work, I enjoy cycling, reading, and fingerpicking guitar.
